Mercola.com supports phasing out dental mercury around the world

Hoffman Estates, IL (PRWEB) September 8, 2014 – Since dental mercury is one of the most prevalent sources of mercury contamination today, Mercola.com is renewing its commitment to champion the charge against dental mercury's worldwide use.

Mercola.com has designated the week of September 8 – 14 as Mercury Awareness Week. The company will donate a portion of its proceeds -- up to $100,000 -- to the Consumers for Dental Choice, a group of consumers, environmental and health leaders that works tirelessly to phase out dental mercury use in Europe, Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

Visitors to Mercola.com can help abolish the use of dental mercury, a pervasive and volatile heavy metal, and help make the world a cleaner, less toxic place.

Mercola.com matched $75,000 raised last year and donated $50,000 the year before to previous Mercury Awareness Weeks.

For anyone interested in reading more, or making a donation, they can go to <http://www.toxicteeth.org/donate.aspx> and click on "Donate," or visit Mercola.com for more information.
