

Mercola Donates Healthy Meals to Local Hospital Staff

Mercola Donates Healthy Meals to Local Hospital Staff

CAPE CORAL, Fla. (June 9, 2020) – Mercola recently sponsored healthy, organic meals to be sent to the emergency and COVID-19 staff at Cape Coral Hospital.

Working with two local catering companies, the staff at Mercola in Cape Coral planned, purchased and helped deliver 60 healthy, organic lunches and dinners to the emergency and COVID-19 staff at Cape Coral Hospital to express their appreciation to the frontline workers.

"We wanted to offer support and show our gratitude by providing healthy meals to our dedicated doctors, nurses and other hospital staff, hoping that it helps them get through these difficult days," says Ryan Boland, Vice President of Sales and Marketing.

Founder of mercola.com, a natural health website that's dedicated to helping more than 50 million monthly readers improve their health with research-proven nutritional, lifestyle and exercise principles, Dr. Mercola has been a trusted source for natural health information for more than 20 years. Using a holistic approach for optimal health and wellness, Dr. Mercola delivers the highest quality products that adhere to strict quality standards, do not contain GMOs and include ingredients free from the toxins and contaminants that are often found in many other health products in the market. Visit shop.mercola.com to browse more than 1,000 healthy products that help Take Control of Your Health®. For the most up-to-date health news and information, visit mercola.com and subscribe to the daily newsletter.